Bonus exercise

- Write a program that reads a string that contains two integers surrounded by the # character

- Extract the two integers and print out their sum

- For example, if the input is sometext#123#moretext#23#text the output should be 146